

Men of Mystery

CELEBRATING MEN WHO WRITE MYSTERIES

For the past eleven years, Men of Mystery has been wowing authors and attendees alike. This day-long award-winning event features fifty male mystery writers and two major speakers. Each author has the opportunity to speak for one minute about his books, his life, and his writing experiences. This delightful hour enchants more than 500 avid reading and book-buying attendees and often turns into stand-up comedy at its finest. This is a unique opportunity for up-and-coming and lesser-known male mystery authors who do not typically have an audience this size and often leads to a buying frenzy where almost every attendee purchases books and then stands in autograph lines to meet and chat with the authors.

The rest of the day includes:

- ▶ Presentations from the two major speakers
- ▶ Multiple book buying opportunities
- ▶ Table Talks with all of the authors during a delicious luncheon
- ▶ A Champagne Celebration at the end of the day

Previous speakers have included Joseph Wambaugh, Michael Connelly (two times!), Stephen J. Cannell, Robert Crais, John Lescroart, David Morrell, T. Jefferson Parker, James Patterson, Dean Koontz, Martin Cruz Smith, Jeffery Deaver, Vince Flynn and others.

Attending authors have included: Don Winslow, Barry Eisler, Thomas Perry, Lee Goldberg, Gregg Hurwitz, James Rollins, and many more household names.
